HOME BREW CONTEST:

Bring your favorite homebrew project to the Hamfest and compete for prizes. Your project should in some way pertain to Ham Radio, and you may enter as many projects as you wish. However, only the project with the highest score will be eligible to compete for prizes. All projects will be judged on creativity, construction, design, safety and appearance by a panel of judges. Entries should not be a kit, but may be from a book or magazine article. Judging and prize announcements will be made during the Sunday afternoon program. Just bring your project(s) to the area labeled "Home Brew Contest" where it will be put on display during the Hamfest. All entrants must be licensed amateurs.

ATTENDANCE:

The average two-day attendance exceeds 5,000.

TESTING:

Due to inadequate facilities, there will be no testing.

FLEA MARKET:

Over 74,000 square feet of area for flea market vendors is under roof. Flea market set-up may begin at 4:00 PM CDT on Friday, July 12. Admission ticket and Check-in at the flea market registration desk required before setting up. Outdoor spaces are available on a first come, first served basis and no reservations are needed.

Sunday, July 14, 1991 - 0700 to 1500 hrs CDT

FOOD:

Food will be sold by a professional catering service on a short-order basis and at very reasonable prices. Sandwiches, snacks, cold soft drinks and coffee will be available in the cafeteria and at other concession stands on the fairgrounds.
